LIKE CAT IN HELL WITHOUT CLAWS

Speaker Cannon Claims That Would Have Been His Position Unless He Fought.

Philadelphia, Dec. 18.—Speaker Cannon, in an address at the annual banquet of the New Jersey Society of Pennsylvania here tonight, took an unexpected fling at his critics and defended his policies and the manner in which the house was ruled at the last session.

"Fear," said Mr. Cannon, "comes to the timid man temporarily invested with power who wants to retain that power and listen to the improper proposals from about, and does not make a protest founded on high resolves, crossed with splendid courage and a desire to do right."

"Away with that old story of one-man power and czarism. Franklin made a protest against the veto power of the executive being made absolute, and he was right."

Usual Choice Language.

"In the chapter of accidents I became speaker of the house. When the minority undertook to check the majority they were met with a refusal from the majority, and the speaker of the house. The speaker would have been like a cat in hell without claws if he had not fought against such usurpation."

"Rules were formulated for the government of the house. Those rules were right and proper. Under them the house wrote wise and proper legislative measures on the statute books."

"There were wild howls from partially selfish newspapers and magazines because this year did not remove 15 percent ad valorem on print paper and wood pulp. They said they wanted it removed because the cost of print paper and wood pulp paper had increased 50 per cent, but they could not show that the increase was due to the duty, and the speaker refused to allow the duty to be removed."

Newspaper Howls.

"They were ashamed," Mr. Cannon said, turning to Vice President-elect James S. Sherman, who was a guest at the function, "to explain that this was the real reason for the pounding during your campaign and mine. They forgot that the speaker could be removed any day or hour. They forgot that nothing could be done without the will of the majority. They enlisted the great head of the American Federation of Labor and the Anti-Saloon league, and the great Republican party was victorious and the government will go on."

He added that he was still speaker of the house.

Stop it! Why cough? Stop it!

Stop coughing! Coughing rasps and tears. Stop it! Coughing prepares the throat and lungs for more trouble. Stop it! There is nothing so bad for a cough as coughing. Stop it! Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a medicine for coughs and colds, a regular doctor's medicine. Use it! Ask your doctor.

EPHRAIM HAPPENINGS.

Ephraim, Dec. 18.—The funeral services over the remains of Richard Price were held at the Wales meeting house yesterday afternoon. A large crowd was present and many beautiful floral offerings were placed on the casket.

Joseph Willardson of Mayfield received a message this morning stating that his son, Irvin, was very sick at Round Mountain, Nev.

Dr. Logan performed an operation on the little son of Hyrum Anderson Monday in removing a tumor from his head. The operation was very painful, but it is thought that he will soon recover.

SOME ADE HUMOR.

A great many of the slang expressions of the day are laid at the door of George Ade, of "Fables in Slang" fame. The following are samples of the witty dialogue in his comedy success, "Just Out of College," which is now at the Salt Lake theatre.

"Mr. Pickering, were you ever in love?"
"I'm married, ain't I? You've seen Mrs. Pickering?"

"That's why I asked you if you were ever in love."

"Young man, when I was your age, I was working twelve hours a day and getting $6 a week."

"Perhaps you weren't worth any more than that."

"What do you mean?"
"If you were worth more than that, then it was poor business to work for six. If you were worth less than that, then you were cheating the man."

"Look here. The fact that my wife is president of the united clubs of this state—that she has her picture in all the papers and gets home about once a month—does not change my opinion of what a woman should be."

1/4 OFF CHESTERFIELD 1/4 OFF SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Nowadays a custom bootmaker is proud to say that his product is "just as good" as that of first class shoe factories. Five years ago you would have smiled if we said the time would come when merchant tailors would be in the same position as the custom shoemaker. But it has come to pass and clothes like "Chesterfield" Clothes have brought it about. Actually BETTER than you can possibly get in a make-to-measure place. Cut by a designer who does not follow styles but creates them.

Built by hand--made out of cloths that cost the limit--exclusiveness in, out and throughout, not built merely to look right, but to stay right. THE MOST EXPENSIVELY MANUFACTURED GARMENTS EVER SOLD IN A CLOTHING STORE.
